

Outcomes following Global Connections VI

The Directeur of L'Ermitage, France, attended and presented at the Bilingual Forum Conference for Central and Eastern Europe at the invitation of the Bilingual English-Slovak Grammar School Slovakia. The Wuhan Declaration was presented at the Conference. The Directeur returns to Slovakia in the fall to work on a project involving 4-6 schools based on the theme of Language, Culture and Bilingualism.

The Principal of School No. 8, The Ukraine, helped to promote the Bilingual Forum conference in Slovakia.

The Traidhos Foundation, Thailand, invited students from the Bilingual English-Slovak Grammar School, Slovakia to study International Baccalaureate in Thailand, offering full tuition for one student and reduced tuition for another.

L'Ermitage, France began a computer project with the aid of the Head Teacher of King Edward VII School, UK and input from Appleby College and Bayview Glen, Canada, Tamaki College, New Zealand and Digital Harbour, Australia.

The Principal of Tamaki College, New Zealand provided three powerpoint presentations to L'Ermitage to aid in the set up of their I.C.T. wireless computer system installation.

Tamaki College instituted an electronic link to provide distance mentoring for the new Principal of Tiger Kloof, South Africa.

The Principal of Tamaki College, New Zealand met with the Primer Minister to share the Wuhan Declaration and act as Facilitator to a "new principals" training programme at Auckland University of Technology.

Tamaki College, New Zealand Board and staff agreed to find six key ideas to adapt from the Wuhan Declaration to fit the "Tamaki way."

Executive Headmaster of SCECGS/Redlands, Australia visited King Edward VII during the summer of 2002, following a visit to the US.

The Head Teacher of King Edward VII School, UK will host a visit from the International Coordinator of Frankston High School, Australia in September, 2002.

The Director of Communications at Lawrence Academy, Massachusetts, posted information on the GCVI Seminar on the school's website "Bulletin Board" page, as well as contacted the local cable access station to advertise his visit to China.

The Principal of Frankston High School, Australia, made plans to send a group including her deputy and the school council president to South Africa to help negotiate links between a university (Monash) and Letsibogo Girls' School in Soweto.

The former Headmaster of Mowbray College, Australia and now Director of Foundation Studies at Trinity College, Australia is generating an English project with Svetna in Novosibirsk and with the Headmistress of Ion Luca Caragiale National College, Romania involving cross-reading and cross-marking

The Principal of Letsibogo Girls' School, South Africa advised that a total of 12 students have been in an exchange program with Australian schools MacRobertson, Frankston High, and Mount Eliza. Three more students from Letsibogo will become part of the Australian exchange for the 2002-03 school year.

Monash University, Australia, invited the Letsibogo/Australian exchange students to a winter enrichment program.

Students of Maseno School, Kenya experienced a three day exchange programme at Starehe Boys' Centre & School, Kenya in early July, 2002.

The Hill School, Taft School and Deerfield Academy (all US schools), offered one full year scholarship to students from the Maru-a-Pula School, Botswana, for the 2002-2003 academic year.

A joint presentation on Global Connections was made to the Head Masters Council Conference in South Africa in August by the Heads of Stanford College and St. Cyprian's Girls School, South Africa.

The Principal of School No. 8, The Ukraine spoke at an International Festival and helped draft the final document to reflect the principles put forth in the Wuhan Declaration.